

Jagenberg Paper GmbH sets the course for the future

Smart.Paper.Solutions: Fast, customer-centered and focused on retrofitting

Jagenberg Paper GmbH has positioned itself for the future:

By focusing on the retrofit business, the company presents itself with a clear strategy. With customer-specific retrofit solutions, the long-established company offers customers in the paper processing and finishing industry an effective way to improve the efficiency, sustainability and productivity of their systems with the help of control technology and mechanical upgrades. The energy-intensive industry is facing major challenges due to high energy costs. This is why pooling expertise in the areas of mechanics, electrics and process technology and focusing on retrofit solutions is a strategic direction to consolidate the company's position on the market.

In addition to its own expertise and experience, the equipment specialist in the paper industry is focusing on synergy effects under the new management of Dr. Stephan Witt, who is also a member of the Jagenberg Group's Executive Board.

This is made possible by the cooperation of the international group of companies, which is a reliable, innovative partner for companies specializing in the processing and finishing of web-shaped materials worldwide in the Machinery & Plants, Automation & Drives and Digital divisions.
